

I. Admission Profile Public Accountant

A. General terms

- Self-confidence
- Spirit of excellence
- Ability to properly communicate in orally and written form
- Ability to handle technological and mathematics tools
- Basic study and reading habits
- Commitment to service
- Interest in research projects
- Capacity for observation and reflection
- Disposition for individual and group work
- Being proactive and willing to face challenges
- Tolerance for diversity

B. Cognitive skills

- Understand the fundamentals of Economics and Administrative Sciences.
- Understand the importance of accounting for business investors, individuals and society.
- Valuate the importance of efficiency, effective and efficient management of both public and private businesses.
- Understand the principles in the area of economic and administrative science.
- Understand the importance of accounting activity in the company.
- Weight how important it is the profession to develop the social environment.

C. Technical skills

- Computers Handling
- Use of computer programs that are usable for the accounting
- Ability in the use of calculator and other recording equipment
- D. Values and Attitudes
- Respect and self-discipline
- Commitment and responsibility
- Entrepreneur and tenacious
- Social and environmental values

Honesty Admission Profile

I. Admission Profile Public Accountant

A. General terms

Self-confidence

Spirit of excellence

Ability to properly communicate in orally and written form

Ability to handle technological and mathematics tools

Basic study and reading habits

Commitment to service

Interest in research projects

Capacity for observation and reflection

Disposition for individual and group work

Being proactive and willing to face challenges

Tolerance for diversity

B. Cognitive skills

Understand the fundamentals of Economics and Administrative Sciences.

Understand the importance of accounting for business investors, individuals and society.

Value the importance of efficiency, effective and efficient management of both public and private businesses.

Understand the principles in the area of economic and administrative science.

Understand the importance of accounting activity in the company.

Weight how important it is the profession to develop the social environment.

C. Technical skills

Computers Handling

Use of computer programs that are usable for the accounting

Ability in the use of calculator and other recording equipment

D. Values and Attitudes

Respect and self-discipline

Commitment and responsibility

Entrepreneur and tenacious

Social and environmental values

Honesty

-